All of Utah is currently meeting the Ozone standard. Kip reported on the Air Quality Strategies developed by the Air Quality Committee, a subcommittee of the Regional Growth Committee. The Committee has identified seven strategies; signal coordination, behavior changes through Travel Wise, increase transit pedestrian and bicycle access, increase van pools, increase the fuel tax, double speed fines on red/yellow air quality days, and invest in transit oriented developments (TOD). Please contact Kip Billings at 801-363-4250 x1115 for additional information.	None Required

The study will be conducted over the next 12 months with the goal of 7,500 to 10,000 completed surveys, starting in the winter / spring of 2012. 5. Mobility Management Overview	Mary Guy-Sell, WFRC, made a PowerPoint presentation on Mobility Management. She explained the set-up and role of the Regional Coordinating Council (RCC) and the Local Coordinating Council (LCC). Currently two LCC's have been set up, one in Tooele County and one in Utah County. Mary discussed the general principles of access and mobility, transportation disadvantaged, resources, collaboration, innovative services, alternative mobility, technology, and environmental barriers. Ali Oliver, WFRC, handed out an Environmental Accessibility Checklist. This list will help to make sure all users are considered when building sidewalks and curbs, transit stops and shelters, crossings and signals, buildings and parking, construction zones, and maintaining existing facilities. She discussed in detail the Tooele County Study which included identifying demographics, destinations, needs and helping the county apply for federal grants. Please contact Mary Guy-Sell at 801-363-4250 x1104 for additional information.	None Required
6. Land Use and Transportation Linkage	Julia Reynolds, WFRC, made a PowerPoint presentation on the coordination between transportation and land use. If current land use trends and travel demand continue, the region cannot build its way out of congestion. She explained that travel demand is induced by accessibility and noted that automobile use increases by 63 to 73 percent as highways and roads are expanded. When land use and transportation are not coordinated the transportation supply (as a function of dollars) does not equal the travel demand (as a function of land use). A visible consequence from this is a loss of open space and access to the outdoors. WFRC projects that the miles driven in the region will nearly double from 49 million miles to 90 million miles. Julia asked the question, "What can we do?" We can promote and facilitate better land use and transportation relationships both on regional and local levels. Julia discussed diversity of uses, pedestrian design, and community connectivity designs. She discussed implementing the Wasatch Choice for 2040 along with the Regional Vision for Land Use and Transportation. Please contact Val John Halford at 801-363-4250 x1109 for additional information.	None Required
7. Unified Transportation Plan	Jory Johner, WFRC, updated the Committee on the Unified Transportation Plan. He explained that the Unified Transportation Plan will be a summary of all four MPOs (Wasatch Front Regional Council, Mountainland Association of Governments, Dixie MPO, and Cache MPO) and UDOT's long range transportation plans for the rural portions of Utah. All plans were coordinated to include similar statewide financial assumptions, projected construction costs, and timeframes. The Unified Transportation Plan will have a brief descriptive text on the coordination, development process, statewide needs, financial assumptions, and will list all highway and transit projects from each individual plan along with coordinating maps. This plan should be completed in November. Please contact Jory Johner at 801-363-4250 x1110 for additional information.	None Required
8. Vote on Complete Streets Strategies	Greg Scott, WFRC, briefly discussed the Complete Streets concept. He explained that complete streets are created when all public right-of-way investments keep all users in mind. The needs of all users are accommodated unless deemed to be unneeded or infeasible. Greg noted that a Complete Streets Coordination meeting was held on August 31st and from that information was gathered on implementation strategies and next steps for WFRC. Greg handed out a survey asking members of the Committee to rank their top ten action steps they would like to see the WFRC move forward with. Categories included funding, policy maker education, regional policy, regional planning, planning/engineer awareness, technical training, and public education. Each category had multiple sub-	None Required
